Loyal True Blue International Headquarters, Richmond Hill, Canada.

This means that they are over 150 years old.

They are a unique and self-governing Loyal Order that is distinctively Canadian in nature.

In days gone by, they were administered by a 'Supreme Grand Lodge'.

Loyal True Blue (or LTB) Lodges boast a very rich history, culture and heritage.

They are the custodians of three very beautiful degrees - Blue, White and Scarlet.

In days gone by, they were administered by a 'Supreme Grand Lodge'.

Loyal True Blue (or LTB) Lodges boast a very rich history, culture and heritage.

They are the custodians of three very beautiful degrees - Blue, White and Scarlet.

Their regalia is blue in colour.

Each year, LTB Lodges organise a number of 'Degree Days' throughout the United Kingdom.

On a 'Degree Day', candidates will officially receive all 3 LTB Degrees in one day (rather than on three separate occasions, as is the case with other Loyal Orders). This is referred to as 'a one-day-conferral'.

Lodge Membership is mixed - open to both men and women.

LTB Lodges enjoy excellent relationships with each and every Loyal Order operating in the UK.

You can join a Loyal True Blue Lodge without being a member of any other Loyal Order.

There are presently three LTB Lodges in the UK:

St. George's LTB No. 1 (England)

Thistle & Maple Leaf LTB No. 1638 (Scotland)

Kingdom of Dalriada LTB No. 3 (Ulster)
